

Why Progressive Materials?

At Progressive Materials, we pride ourselves on being a family-owned and family-operated company. This family pride is what ensures our customers receive the best product and tremendous customer service. At PM, clients are not numbers in a machine - they're part of the PM family! Like any company, we are not perfect, but unlike major corporations, we are able to overcome any issue quickly and morally. We stand behind our silicone products and we stand with our clients. If you are part of the PM Silicone family, we have your back and are there for you when you need us.

The Most State-Of-The-Art Facility in America

As our company continues to grow, we had to upgrade to grow with it. Our new, state-of-the-art manufacturing facility represents our influence in the industry and our dedication to our customers. This new facility sets us apart in the following ways:

- Allows for 24/7/365 silicone production.
- Offers us the ability to work on custom projects more quickly and precisely.
- Unmatched quality assurance labs.
- Top-of-the-line research and development labs.
- Available training facility for customer training and hands-on educational programs.
- Interactive silicone roof available for touring.
- You can schedule your plant tour today!

Our Silicone is Made in House

- Cuts out the middle man saving you money.
- Ensures a great final product.
- Offers knowledgeable and immediate technical customer service.
- 100% of our silicone is made in America.
- We are able to customize orders and work with you on the fly to make sure you are getting the right product for the right job every time.

The Right Size Company for Any-Sized Job

As President of PM Silicone, Sean Stumler likes to put it, "We're nimble". Our family has grown quite a bit since we started out, but we are not too big to handle your needs in a timely manner. We don't get bogged down in corporate red tape making our customer service and production speed second to none. Give us a shot and let us prove to you that we are the right company to satisfy your silicone needs!

Honesty, Integrity... Family

Being part of the PM family means you get the respect you deserve. We don't want to sell you silicone and then part ways. We want to start a relationship. Whether it's helping walk roofs with customers, instructing your team on proper application methods, or teaming up on marketing campaigns, we're there! Once you're part of the PM family, we are dedicated to fostering a meaningful and lasting relationship.
